DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

The response to the election requirements submitted on 2/28/2005 has been considered. Upon examining the elected embodiment, it is found that the elected invention still imposes serious burden to examiner because claims 1-25 directs to several different species, and also includes a specific subcombination method for inspecting optical elements. To ensure quality service for the applicant own benefit, it is determined that further restriction should be issued. Therefore, the restriction requirement issued on 01/27/2005 is herein withdrawn. A new restriction is herein established. The applicant is requested to re-elect a single invention as follow:

- I. Claims 1-11, drawn to a method for inspecting a plurality of optical elements, classified in class 356, subclass 239.2.
- II. Claims 12-25, drawn to an inspection board, classified in class 356, subclass 73.1.
- III. Claim 26, drawn to a method of arranging redundant-length portions of optical fibers, classified in class 385, subclass 135.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions I and II and III are related as combination and subcombination.

Inventions in this relationship are distinct if it can be shown that (1) the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed for patentability, and (2) that the subcombination has utility by itself or in other combinations (MPEP § 806.05(c)). In the instant case, the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed because Group I is a method for inspecting optical elements. The method of Group I does not require the subcombination of Group II to inspect the optical elements. The method of Group III does not require to use the subcombination Group II to arrange redundant-length portions of optical fibers. The subcombinations have separate utilities.

If Applicant elects Group II (claims 12-25), Applicant further needs to elect the following species:

Species I: Fig 4 (claims 12-20) directed to an optical module inspection apparatus comprising a redundant-length handling part.

Species II: Fig 9 (claims 21-25) directed to an optical module inspection apparatus comprising a temperature control part and a driving part.

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, no claim is generic.

Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Tu T. Nguyen whose telephone number is (571) 272-2424. The examiner can normally be reached on T-F 7:30-5:30.

If attempts to reach the examiner by telephone are unsuccessful, the examiner's supervisor, Gregory Toatley Jr. can be reached on (571) 272-2800 Ext. 77. The fax phone number for the organization where this application or proceeding is assigned is 703-872-9306.
